DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Klaue (US Patent Number 4,705,027).

Klaue disclose various embodiments of a medullary nail device for fixation of bone fragments at bone fractures comprising a medullary nail, e.g. 10, wherein the medullary nail is insertable into holes, e.g. 105 (see figures 4 and 5) in the bone fragments, e.g. 101, a locking means, e.g. 2a, having a hole (see figure 1), a transverse hole, e.g. 8, and a snap-in device having two elastic jaws defining a gap, wherein the outer parts of the gap are wider than the locking means (see figure 23).

With regard the statement of intended use and other functional statements, they do not impose any structural limitations on the claims distinguishable over Klaue, which is capable of being used as claimed if one so desires to do so. In re Casey, 152 USPQ 235 (CCPA 1967) and In re Otto, 136 USPQ 458, 459 (CCPA 1963). Furthermore, the law of anticipation does not require that the reference “teach” what the subject patent teaches, but rather it is only necessary that the claims under attack “read on” something in the reference. Kalman v. Kimberly Clark Corp., 218 USPQ 781 (CCPA 1983).

Furthermore, the manner in which a device is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (1987).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 03 October 2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The claimed structure is shown in the references as cited in the rejection and the applied art is capable of performing the intended use. The structure shown in Figure 23 need not be called a "snap-in" device to be so nonetheless. The device is fully capable of functioning in such a manner.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
